

1. A cap for a track of a sliding door, the cap having a configuration to fit over the track of the sliding door, the cap comprising an elongate member which is sufficiently flexible to allow it to be stored and transported in a roll.
5
2. The cap of claim 1, wherein the cap is formed of plastic.
3. The cap of claim 1 formed with an elongate channel adapted to accommodate an upper part of the track.
4. A sliding door sill comprising a floor, a track extending upwardly from the floor and adapted to support a sliding door which rides along the track, the track having an upper portion, and a cap which extends over the upper portion of the track, the cap comprising an elongate member which is sufficiently flexible to allow it to be stored and transported in a roll.
10
5. The sill of claim 4, wherein the cap has an elongate channel adapted to accommodate an upper part of the track.
15
6. The sill of claim 5, wherein the track has a wider top portion and a narrower stem portion.
7. The sill of claim 6, wherein the cap extends over the track such that the portion of the cap abuts or is closely spaced from the floor of the sill
20 from which the track extends.